The Journal is published by Swith, Imman & Co.

At Angusta there is the Chronicle and Scatione, published by M. S. Moss, formerly of the Bridgeport (Conn.) Plarmer—the Considerionalist, published by Stockton & Co., the old propretion, but with a change in the edited by the Union troops thereby after they receiped the city, but it has been allowed to appear again. It has both a morning and evening edition, and is the only full sheet among our Southern exchanges, the rest being printed on half sheets, and on some days only one side of the sheet is printed upon. There is also a new weening paper puthished in Angusta, called the Frenser'yd. It was started by the editors of the Bogital Emoure on the Advertiser and the Mad, which are printed on quarter the piace; to olice of the last named paper, and also that of the Thun, was signost critically destroyed by the destruction of the city when our troops, under Gen. Nearly all the foregoing have been nothing more than guerilian and bushwhackers, asmore than guerilian and bushwhackers, asthe the commands of Boleane, Kidd, and Mayherry. These men did little more than hushwhack picket posts, cut the telegraph wire, and rob and murder without dislinction of party. They have kept the State in a continual ferment, and have committed numberless attoctive unparalleled in the history of civilized warfare.

Yesterday Brigadler General Dorrit, staff and escort, came in from Camdon and surrendered to General Edwards. Our forces are raking quiet and peacessile poissessium of the towns in this part of the State; they meet with not opposition but are welcomed by the inhebitants. Monticello and Warren are occapied by datachments of our regiment, and as soon as the rivers and bayous subside a
